Attend Learning 2008 with other learning professionals from Europe

Alfred Remmits,
CEO LearningGuide Solutions:
"Over the years I've attended each of the conferences run by Elliott Masie, along with many other events, exhibitions and seminars in the learning industry. In my opinion, Elliott Masie's are always best conferences for professionals interested in organizational learning and those involved with the latest developments in this field. Elliott is a true visionary – a prolific writer and researcher and a highly-respected commentator on technology, learning and performance support".

This year Elliott Masie's Learning conference will be held in Orlando, Florida. Around one hundred high-level speakers have been invited to discuss their experiences and provide thought leadership.

We are pleased to invite you to attend the Learning 2008 conference, together with other learning professionals from Europe. We have created an 'all-in' package, which allows you to attend at a reduced rate. Please read the detailed information about the package below.

Learning 2008 is the annual global gathering of learning professionals focused on Learning Changes.

The conference features a strategic blend of activities designed to facilitate your continued learning in areas like Learning Excellence, Learning Profession & Careers, Interviews with Key Chief Learning Officers and Learning Industry Groups.
